

Procedure

Managing student absences and enforcing enrolment and attendance at state schools

Purpose

Procedure for managing student absences and enforcing parents' obligations to ensure children are enrolled and attend school on every school day or participate full-time in their eligible option.

Overview

Each parent of a child who is of compulsory school age has the legal obligation to ensure their child is enrolled and attends a school, on every school day for the educational program in which the child is enrolled, unless the parent has a reasonable excuse.

A child should be enrolled in and attend school from the beginning of the school year in the year that they turn compulsory school age (six years and six months).

Each parent of a young person in the compulsory participation phase has the legal obligation to ensure that the young person is participating full-time in an eligible option, unless the parent has a reasonable excuse.

Parents may be prosecuted if they do not fulfil their legal obligations in regard to enrolment and attendance of their child at school, or participation in an eligible option. An authorised officer from either a school or region can seek consent from their regional director to refer a case to the Queensland Police Service to consider prosecution. However there are a range of circumstances where the legal obligations of parents do not apply.

From time to time a student may be absent from their educational program. Parents comply with their compulsory schooling or compulsory participation obligation by providing a reasonable excuse for these absences, unless the student is an adult or it is not appropriate to contact the student's parents, in which case an explanation should be sought directly from the student. Parents should provide a reason for a child's absence before or on the day of the absence, or as soon as practicable.

Early identification of students whose attendance is not regular is crucial to minimising student absences. Schools must notify parents of an unexplained absence of their child as soon as practicable on the day of the student's absence (allowing time for parents to respond prior to the end of the school day), with continued follow up as practicable with parents. Schools and regions may need to work closely with other agencies to support parents to meet their obligations in regard to the enrolment and attendance or participation of their child.

There is no legal obligation for parents regarding attendance where a student is not yet of compulsory schooling age, and accordingly, the prosecution process does not apply in this circumstance. However, it is expected that if these students are enrolled in school they will attend full-time. Where there are attendance issues with enrolled students who are below compulsory schooling age, schools should emphasise the importance of attending every school day through discussions with parents, referring to the Every day counts in Prep factsheet and Information for families on starting school, or by using the template letter to parents – Prep attendance.

Schools should treat a student's enrolment as having ended, and record it as such, only in certain circumstances. For students who are older than the compulsory schooling age, attendance is one factor which may be considered when making decisions about cancelling a student's enrolment (refer to the Cancellation of enrolment procedure).

For principals in the communities of Aurukun, Coen, Doomadgee, Hopevale and Mossman Gorge, additional processes apply in respect of failure to enrol or attend under sections 40 and 41 of the Family Responsibilities Commission Act 2008 \(Qld\).

Responsibilities

Authorised officers in schools (principals, deputy principals, and heads of campus)

- inform parents of their legal obligations about enrolment and attendance
- implement strategies to manage student enrolment and absences
- monitor student absences
- notify parents/carers of an unexplained absence of their child as soon as practicable on the day of the student's absence (allowing time for parents to respond prior to the end of that school day)
- if notifications are sent using an automated process (e.g. through an external electronic attendance management or text messaging system), ensure transmission reports are checked to confirm notifications have been successfully sent to parents and there are no errors in transmission
- if notifications sent to parents (as part of the same day student absence notification process) are retained in an external electronic attendance management system, evidence of these notifications must also be captured in OneSchool's Record of Contact when the process for enforcing attendance is being undertaken
- continue to follow up unexplained absences as practicable with parents/carers
- continue to work with regional office staff and other local resources to engage with the student and their family with the aim of returning the student to school
- manage processes for enforcing parental obligation in regard to:
 - attendance
 - compulsory participation.

Authorised officers in regions (principal advisor education services, principal advisor regional services, and director regional services)

- manage processes for enforcing parental obligation in regard to:
 - enrolment
 - attendance
 - compulsory participation.
- approve requests from schools for searches on enrolment information from Performance Monitoring and Reporting in relation to the enforcement of attendance process
- seek advice from Legal and Administrative Law Branch if considered necessary, and record this in OneSchool as appropriate
- keep a central record of prosecutions relating to failure to enrol or failure to participate that have been referred to the Queensland Police Service. Record prosecutions for failure to attend in OneSchool and prosecutions for failure to enrol in HPRM, including any outcomes
- monitor attendance data using the OneSchool performance dashboard (DoE employees only) for chronic student absenteeism.

Regional directors

- decide whether to consent to prosecute for failure to enrol, or failure to attend or participate, including for Independent Public Schools in their region.

Child Protection Investigation Unit, Queensland Police Service

- notify the region of the outcomes of failure to enrol, failure to attend, and failure to participate cases referred to the Queensland Police Service for prosecution.

Home Education Unit

- conduct searches to confirm whether a child is registered or provisionally registered for home education, if requested by schools in relation to the enforcement of attendance process.

Performance Monitoring and Reporting

- conduct searches for information regarding enrolment and attendance to ensure a child is not enrolled at another state school (including a school of distance education), if requested by schools (with approval from an authorised officer in the region) in relation to the enforcement of attendance process.

Parents

- ensure their child of compulsory school age is enrolled and attends a school, on every school day for the educational program in which the child is enrolled, unless the parent has a reasonable excuse.
- ensure their child in the compulsory participation phase is participating full-time in an eligible option, unless the parent has a reasonable excuse.

Process

Enrolment

When a region identifies or is notified that a compulsory school age child may not be enrolled in school, the authorised officer may take steps to enforce the parental obligation that a child of compulsory school age is enrolled at a school, including:

- confirming enrolment status and assessing reasons for non-enrolment
- offering support to the family (if required) to enrol their child
- issuing notices, and
- seeking consent from the regional director to prosecute.

Authorised officers are to follow the steps outlined in Processes for enforcing the parental obligation that a child of compulsory school age is enrolled in a school.

Attendance

When a school identifies unexplained or unsatisfactory absences or patterns of absences, an authorised officer may take steps to enforce the parental obligation that a child of compulsory school age attends on every school day, for the educational program in which the child is enrolled. Steps may include:

- assessing reasons for absence and determining if they are reasonable or not
- offering support to the family to improve attendance or implement alternative arrangements
- issuing notices, and
- seeking consent from the regional director to prosecute.

Authorised officers are to follow the steps outlined in Processes for enforcing the parental obligation that a child of compulsory school age attends on every school day, for the educational program in which the child is enrolled.

Participation

When a school/region identifies or becomes aware of a young person in the compulsory participation phase who is not participating full-time in an eligible option, an authorised officer may take steps to enforce the parental obligation that a young person in the compulsory participation phase participates full-time in an eligible option. Steps may include:

- confirming obligation to participate, and assessing reasons for non-participation
- offering support to improve participation or implement alternative arrangements
- issuing notices, and
- seeking consent from the regional director to prosecute.

Authorised officers are to follow the steps outlined in Processes for enforcing the parental obligation that a young person in the compulsory participation phase participates full-time in an eligible option.
